By Anya Antipina

Anya Antipina's memoir, Aerialist: The Colourful Life of a Trapeze Artist, is an inspiring and captivating account of her remarkable journey from humble beginnings in Russia to becoming an internationally renowned aerialist and performer.

Growing up in a small town in Siberia, Anya never dreamed that she would one day be performing in front of thousands of people around the world. But from a young age, she had a natural talent for acrobatics and gymnastics, and she quickly discovered her passion for aerial arts.

With unwavering determination and a tireless work ethic, Anya dedicated herself to honing her skills. She trained for hours on end, day after day, year after year, until she had mastered the art of trapeze. Her dedication paid off when she was accepted into the prestigious Moscow Circus School, where she further refined her skills under the tutelage of the world's greatest aerialists.

After graduating from circus school, Anya began her professional career as an aerialist. She performed in circuses and theatres throughout Russia, Europe, and Asia, and quickly established herself as one of the most talented and versatile aerialists in the world.

In 2010, Anya's career took a major turn when she joined the cast of the world-renowned Cirque du Soleil. For the next six years, she toured with Cirque du Soleil's production of "Ovo," performing in over 300 shows in cities around the world.

In 2016, Anya left Cirque du Soleil to pursue her own artistic endeavors. She created her own aerial company, "Anya Antipina Aerialists," and has since performed in numerous shows and events, including the 2018 Winter Olympics in South Korea.

Aerialist: The Colourful Life of a Trapeze Artist is more than just a memoir of Anya's professional journey. It is also a personal story of perseverance, resilience, and the power of following your dreams. Anya's story is an inspiration to anyone who has ever dreamed of pursuing a career in the arts, or anyone who simply wants to live a life of passion and purpose.
