Step into the ethereal realm of Christina Rossetti's avian-inspired poetry in "My Heart Is Like Singing Bird," a captivating anthology that celebrates the beauty and symbolism of birds.

Rossetti's Love for the Natural World

Rossetti, a renowned Victorian poet, was deeply enamored with the natural world, particularly birds. Her poems evoke the intricate songs, vibrant plumage, and soaring grace of these creatures. Each bird becomes a symbol of human emotion, desire, and the elusive nature of existence.

Themes of Love, Loss, and Freedom

Through the lens of birds, Rossetti explores universal themes of love, loss, and freedom. Her poems about nightingales capture the haunting beauty of unrequited love, while her depictions of swallows symbolize the yearning for freedom and the transience of life. The collection also features contemplative verses on owls, robins, and falcons, each bird representing a different facet of the human experience.

Exquisite Language and Imagery

Rossetti's poetry is renowned for its exquisite language and vivid imagery. Her words paint vibrant pictures that evoke the senses, transporting readers into the world of birds. From the "soft flutter" of wings to the "trilling notes" of song, her verses are a symphony of sound and beauty.

Timeless and Universal Appeal

The poems in "My Heart Is Like Singing Bird" transcend time and resonate with readers of all ages. Rossetti's insights into the human condition and the beauty of nature remain as relevant and poignant today as they were when first penned.

Beautifully Illustrated Edition

This special edition of "My Heart Is Like Singing Bird" is exquisitely illustrated with stunning avian artwork that complements Rossetti's words. Each poem is accompanied by a unique illustration that brings the birds and their symbolic meanings to life.
