Trout Streams

Washington County is home to some of the best trout streams in Pennsylvania. The Chartiers Creek, South Fork Tenmile Creek, and North Fork Tenmile Creek are all renowned for their exceptional populations of wild rainbows, browns, and brookies. These streams offer a variety of fishing opportunities, from secluded pools ideal for fly fishing to fast-flowing riffles perfect for spinning gear.

Lakes and Reservoirs

If you prefer stillwater fishing, Washington County has plenty to offer. Lake Canonsburg, Mingo Creek Reservoir, and Cross Creek Lake are all excellent options for boat fishing, trolling, and ice fishing. These lakes are stocked with a variety of species, including largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, walleye, and bluegill. With their crystal-clear waters and abundance of structure, these lakes provide ample opportunities to reel in a monster catch.

Enjoy the serenity of fishing from a boat on one of Washington County's beautiful lakes.

Float Your Worries Away

Beyond its fishing opportunities, Washington County also offers unparalleled floating experiences on the Monongahela River. This scenic river meanders through the heart of the county, offering miles of gentle currents and breathtaking views. Whether you prefer a relaxing kayak adventure or a thrilling whitewater rafting expedition, you'll find it all here.

Kayaking on the Monongahela

Kayaking on the Monongahela River is a great way to explore the area's natural beauty at your own pace. The river's calm currents and wide-open stretches make it ideal for beginners and families. Along the way, you'll encounter numerous islands, coves, and wildlife viewing areas. Be sure to bring your binoculars to spot eagles, herons, and other birds.

Whitewater Rafting on the Monongahela

If you're looking for an adrenaline-pumping adventure, try whitewater rafting on the Monongahela River. The Youghiogheny River Trail is a popular section for rafting, offering a variety of rapids and challenges. Experienced guides will help you navigate the river's currents and ensure a safe and unforgettable experience.

Embark on an exhilarating whitewater rafting adventure on the Monongahela River.
